SUMMARY

IT lead who has been the first IT hire twice. I like boring onboarding, quiet conference rooms, and help desk queues that shrink over time.

EXPERIENCE

IT Manager (first IT hire), Lumafin (fintech, 40 to 260 employees, NYC + Austin) Mar 2021 - Present

- Built IT from scratch with no reports: FreshService help desk, Slack triage channel with a /ithelp workflow, and 85 self-serve articles; ticket volume per employee fell 38% in a year
- Rebuilt onboarding and offboarding around Rippling and Okta; day-one readiness went from 70% to 98% and offboarding access removal now finishes within 1 hour
- Rolled out Kandji for 240 Macs and Intune for 30 Windows laptops; zero-touch provisioning ships laptops straight to remote hires
- Opened the Austin office and moved the NYC office: network cutover with our MSP, Meraki Wi-Fi, and 11 conference rooms on Neat Bar and Neat Pad
- Run quarterly access reviews across Google Workspace, Slack, Zoom, Notion, GitHub, and Microsoft 365 for SOC 2 Type II; two clean audits
- Cut SaaS spend $94K a year by reclaiming unused licenses and consolidating three tools into Notion
- Manage the outsourced IT provider and 6 vendors; rewrote the MSP contract around response-time SLAs
- Wrote a small Python script with the Rippling and Kandji APIs that flags devices not assigned to an active employee

IT Support Lead, Brightcart (e-commerce, 3 offices) Jun 2017 - Feb 2021

- Primary on-site IT for the 150-person Manhattan office and remote support for two warehouse offices
- Supported macOS and Windows, Google Workspace, and Slack; kept a 4-hour median first response
- Ran hardware purchasing and an asset inventory of 400 devices in Snipe-IT; cut lost-device write-offs by half
- Set up Zoom Rooms on Logitech Rally in 7 rooms and trained office managers on daily room checks

Desktop Support Technician, Hollis & Grant LLP Aug 2014 - May 2017

- Supported 120 attorneys and staff on Windows, Microsoft 365, and document management
- Wrote plain-language how-to guides that became the firm's onboarding packet
